Social and Personal

AMONG the attractive functions to be given next week will be the entertainment given by the Virginia Country Club on Saturday evening, December 21, at the clubhouse from 5 to 10 o'clock. A reception will be given in the afternoon and music and dancing will occupy the younger members in the evening. This will be one of the handsomest affairs given at the clubhouse for some time, and invitations will be limited to the members of the club and out-of-town guests. Decorations will be in keeping with the holiday season.

House Parties in Essex.

Two very attractive house parties for Christmas week will be those given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beverley, at "Blandfield," and Mr. and Mrs. Hill Beverley, at "Kendall," in Essex county, Va. Dancing and cards will occupy the guests and several hunting parties will be given during the coming week in their honor. Those invited include Misses Fanny and Rebecca Beverley, Roger Dulany, of Upperville, Va.; John Stoen, Alex. Turner, Guy Herbert, of the University of Virginia; Hill Beverley, Jr., Welby Beverley, of Richmond, and Bland Beverley, of the Plains, Va.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau.

The Times-Dispatch, 1193 Hull Street.

City Collector Robertson's plea before the Council Committee that he should receive a larger share of the fees accruing from the tax collection, since he does all the work, has been referred to a subcommittee, consisting of Messrs. Grundy, Fuller and Brady. This committee will work over the case in conjunction with the City Collector, the Delinquent Tax Collector and the City Attorney.

Under the articles of annexation an office for current taxes and one for delinquent taxes were to be established in Washington Ward. Mr. Robertson, who was the City Collector for old Manchester, was offered the position of deputy collector of South Richmond for all taxes, and in return for his services was to receive half the fees, the other half going to City Collector Cunningham and Delinquent Tax Collector Walford.

At the expiration of his old term Mr. Robertson decided that if he did all the collecting more of the fees belonged to him, so he appealed to the council committee. During the discussion of the matter Colonel Grundy said that as the annexation agreement left the payment of deputies entirely in the hands of the City Collector he did not think the Council would have the right to interfere in case it desired to do so.

Considering the fact that the receipts from the Stockton Street Bazaar, which was conducted last week at the Masonic Temple, amounted to $350, it may be safely said that the affair was a success.

The proceeds of the fair are to be used toward swelling the building fund of the church, the old building having been recently destroyed by fire.

There was an astonishing increase shown in the statement recently made public by the Manchester National Bank as compared with the same statement for last year. The total resources of the bank are $128,872.25, as against $230,000 for the same period last year.

The phenomenal gain may partly be ascribed to the influence which the annexation has had on the business life of South Richmond, and in a great part to the fact that the bank got a national charter some months ago.

Champion Moose Head.
What is believed to be the largest moose head in existence has just been received by E. C. Bellwood, of South Richmond, from Seward, Alaska, via Seattle. The antlers have forty-six points, show a spread of six feet three inches and are massive in size and weight.

In a hotly contested exhibition in both the Portland and the Seattle Exposition, this moose head was successful in carrying off the gold medal. Holiday Mail Heavy.

Postmaster Thomas Smith, of South Richmond, reports that the regular Christmas flood of mail matter has descended upon him, and every effort is being made to handle it rapidly. People may render the office a favor and insure the greater efficiency in the service by taking pains to see that their letters and packages are properly addressed and carry the right amount of postage.

Church Entertainments.
The coming week will be crowded with the Christmas entertainments of the various Southside churches, and some of the Sunday schools also have events scheduled.

The Sunday school of the Weatherford Memorial Church will have its annual entertainment on Monday evening. The customary Christmas show of the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church and Sunday school will be held immediately after the regular meeting of the Sunday school. A stereopticon show will be given for the young folks on Tuesday evening.

The Clifton Street Baptist Church will pull off its entertainment on the night of December 27, and will have all kinds of fun for the amusement of the young and old people.

The West End Christmas entertainment will follow on the evening of December 28.

The Woodland Heights Church will give its annual Christmas entertainment this afternoon in the church.

Justice Maurice found the criminal docket awaiting him yesterday morning rather slim, but there was a list of petty civil cases that made up for the other. The "criminals" were three drunks.

Roy Thomas, a white man, who was brought up on the charge of being drunk, startled the court by begging that he be sent to jail for ten days. He advanced as a reason for the request the fact that he was without work, penniless, without any work in sight and desired to keep out of trouble. Justice Maurice granted the request, but the general opinion seems to be that Thomas will be clamoring for his freedom before he has boarded many nights under the roof of the Hotel de la Satterfield.

Dick Prulett, aged seventy years and plying the trade of a blacksmith, was warned by the court not to be brought up on any such charge again, and was discharged after being put on probation for the month.

Thomas Simms, colored, was stung $250 worth for surrounding a jug of John Barleycorn and becoming too hilarious.

Personal and General.

The annual Christmas german of the Manchester Cotillion Club will be held at the Belvidere Hall on next Wednesday evening at 8:45 o'clock. The Hustings Court Part II, was engaged yesterday in the examination of several cases in chancery, and will convene again this morning. Few cases have been entered on the docket for this term, most of the large suits having been postponed until the January term.

Miss Bessie Forrester, who recently experienced a severe accident by falling down the back flight of stairs at her home, has been allowed to return to her residence.

Peter Donald still continues critically ill at his home in Forest Hill. Mrs. J. H. D. Johnson is ill at her home, 406 Marks Street.

McLauchlin-McKeithan.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Wadesboro, N. C., December 21.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McKeithan was the scene to-night of a pretty home wedding in which Miss Daisy McKeithan became the bride of John E. McLauchlin, of Atlanta, Ga. Rev. R. M. Mann, of the Wadesboro Presbyterian Church, officiated. Only members of the family and intimate friends were present. The bride and groom left for a short honeymoon trip, and will be at home in Atlanta soon after the New Year.

Black-White.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Fayetteville, N. C., December 21.—Miss Lydia McDuffie White, of this city, and Clovis M. Black, of Petersburg, Va., were married at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. A. McDonald, today.

Will Be Married To-Day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Rockville, Va., December 21.—Miss Fannie Stanley and Robert Tiller will be married in Dunn's Chapel M. E. Church Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Rev. B. S. Herrink will perform the ceremony.
